further the students’ translation-related skills and provide them with tools and research methods enabling them to undertake their end-of-study project. Supplementary or elective modules are offered in order to enrich their translation-related knowledge.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

To be admitted, the candidate must hold a B.A. or equivalent in one of the languages of the following linguistic combinations:

- Language Combination: Arabic-French-English
  - B.A. in Arabic Studies
  - B.A. in French Studies
  - B.A. degree in Public Law (French) or in Private Law (French)
  - B.A. degree in Economics; or B.Sc.

- Language Combination: Arabic-English-French
  - B.A. in English Studies

- Language Combination: Arabic-Spanish-French
  - B.A. in Spanish Studies

- Language Combination: Arabic-German-French
  - B.A. in German Studies
SELECTION PROCEDURE

Study of the student's file

For each linguistic combination, a selection committee is set up in order to examine the files of candidates. The selection is made on the basis of a certain number of criteria, such as the number of distinctions, the marks obtained in the main subjects, the duration of previous studies, …

Competitive examination

Competitive interview

Candidates with a BA in Public Law (French), BA in Private Law (French), BA in Economics or a BA in Science are called for an interview.

LANGUAGES AND LANGUAGE COMBINATIONS

Arabic (Language A) is considered as the first active language in the programme. The second active language (Language B) is either French, English, Spanish or German. The passive language (Language C) is either English or French.

Students must master entirely their active languages (A and B) and comprehend fully their passive language (C).

INTERNESIS AND END-OF-STUDIES RESEARCH PROJECT

Students are expected to have two internship placements of 25 days in offices, institutions or organisms where translation or a similar activity is practiced. They are expected to participate fully and actively in the activities of the office where they are placed, especially in those involving translation. At the end of the internship period, they have to submit an internship report and defend it before a jury.

FIELDS OF RESEARCH:

General & specialized translation
Terminology & lexicography
Computer-assisted translation
Translation & technology
Interpreting
Translation Studies
Text Linguistics

JOB OPPORTUNITIES

Graduates of King Fahd School of translation may find job opportunities in the following sectors:
1. Translation offices
2. International companies and organizations
3. Moroccan ministry of foreign affairs
4. Journalism, news agencies and media
5. Public and private bodies